

Will you be the
Hong Kong
Young Writer of the Year for 2011?

The Hong Kong Young Writers Awards

is an annual competition for young writers in Hong Kong to flex their creative muscles in: fiction, non-fiction, and poetry. There is also a book cover design section.

An overall student will be named the Hong Kong Young Writer of the Year. One student's art work will be on the front cover of the anthology.

Theme: New Tales of the Silk Road

All entries will be judged against the following six criteria: imagination, verbal skills, originality, style, technical accuracy, and intangible magic.

DON'T FORGET:

- Writing/Art work is due: January 25th 2011
- Your fiction/non-fiction/poetry submission must be emailed to me: khowes@gs.esf.edu.hk in a word document. Maximum of 1000 words for fiction/non-fiction & unlimited for poetry.
- Original art work must be submitted on A3 size paper, portrait orientation

Go to www.hkywa.com
for more details now!
You have to be in it to win it!

